Will Give You Understanding in Everything

2 Tim. 2:1-7

We have decided to begin a gathering for all evangelists starting in February. We believe this is a very meaningful beginning before God. This will be a time devoted solely to having forum about evangelism, and also a time to pray together for our evangelism. Anyone who has an interest in evangelism is welcome to participate. It has not been easy to have a gathering focused only on evangelism forum. Being able to continue evangelism forum means that we are continually going out into the field, and that important answers and works are continuing there, bringing about evidence of change taking place.
It was the same in the past when the term “3 Todays” was mentioned. Most of our forum was centered on the Word, and even prayer forums did not take place well. Prayer answers were not continuous, and our realm of prayer was not deep, so it was not easy to have forum about enjoying prayer. Because of this situation, evangelism forum was almost impossible. As a result, this important disciples’ gathering could not have continuation, and because of that, we lost hold of many of God’s blessings related to evangelism.
However, now it appears that our church’s evangelism has reached a point where we can continue a gathering that focuses solely on evangelism forum. This is an important development and could become a very significant time schedule. Twelve of our team-ministry evangelism teams are registered, but there are some teams that only have their names listed and are not active. But there is no need to be discouraged. If we continue this gathering, God will open the doors. Continuing such meetings, praying, and giving evangelism reports to God is God’s will of all wills.

1. Will Give You Understanding in Everything
    1) This is the Word found in verse 7, “Think over what I say, for the Lord will give you understanding in everything." This can be understood as Paul saying, “I have done this myself, and it turned out to be true.” It means that instead of being deceived by Satan, by humankind, and by the world and making foolish choices, we will be able to make wise and discerning choices through God’s clear mind and covenant.
    2) Therefore, it is important to organize and understand what it is that we are being told to think over. It refers to what has been said from the beginning. In verse 1: be strengthened in the grace of Christ Jesus. In verse 2: entrust Paul’s message, which was heard in the presence of many witnesses, to faithful people. In verse 3: to share in suffering as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. In verse 4: to not be entangled in any of one’s personal affairs, but to give one’s entire life to pleasing the One who enlisted them. In verse 5: to compete according to the rules and receive the victor’s crown. In verse 6: “I am God’s farmer”—a farmer of God who gives their entire life in order to bear the fruit that God desires.
    3) These are the things we are told to think over. Paul is saying, “When I did this, God gave me understanding in everything.” As a result, he did not make mistakes, wrong decisions, or face ruin, but instead enjoyed the perfect guidance of the Holy Spirit, lived a life of victory and conquest, and saved others.
    4) Never forget the grace of Christ Jesus, but be strong in that grace, and wherever you go, seek out faithful people and entrust this gospel to them. With that heart, always pray to find faithful people. Never seek to rule over others, but always be prepared to suffer for the sake of the gospel. Never forget that you are part of God’s army, and do not become entangled in personal matters, nor let it hinder God’s work. Do not forget that everything must be done according to the Word. Then so, always receive the Word as life, and remember that God’s blessing comes first upon farmers like us who labor for God's field. Think about these things. God will give you understanding.

5) This is what Paul tells us to think over. It may feel like a lot. However, if you quietly lay your heart before God, you will actually receive even more words as you meditate on this passage. There are many contents in the prayer of the bartizan, journey and guidepost. The life of an evangelist is summarized in 62 points. Even though there are so many, when you examine them closely, there is nothing unnecessary and nothing repeated.
6) Quietly open the Word and consider each point one by one. It says to think over it and the Lord will give you understanding in everything. If this is the method to receive understanding, there is no reason we cannot do it. To receive understanding means one will not fail, and if one does not continue to fail, anyone is able to conquer. Anyone can live a life of a masterpiece like the Bible. If the path to conquest is found in thinking over these things, then there is no reason we cannot do it.
7) We must believe the Word. "Think over it, and you will gain understanding in all things. I did so myself." This is Paul's testimony. Therefore, everyone should consider these things for their own sake. Because this is the Word, if we follow it, God's promise will be revealed. May you be blessed.

2. Faithful Men

1) They are the core people of the kingdom of God, and through them God accomplishes the work of His kingdom. Who are the faithful ones? They are the ones who possess the gospel, evangelists who desire to testify the gospel, those who pray for and support this evangelism, those who received the baton who want to pass on this incredible work to the next generation, the ones who remained, pilgrims, conquerors, church officers, businesspeople, Remnant evangelists—it is these people.
2) God has given us the historic gospel. As the most important people of this age, we will come to know God's heart, place our entire lives inside His desire and become the faithful ones. It is said that a soldier of Christ is not entangled in their own affairs at all. This is faithfulness that has no flaws.
3) Moreover, never giving up until the end while having the mindset of 300% and reaching the place of God's desire is also a crucial virtue of the faithful one. Though I am lacking, having the determination to ultimately reach the place God has promised and never giving up on prayer is an essential characteristic of the faithful that cannot be omitted. That place is the place God has promised and it is where God's desire is found; therefore, those who do not stop will surely reach it. Because there is a promise of the guidance of the Holy Spirit, 'Nobody' and 'Nothing' actually becomes a good thing.
4) This is because there is no choice but to do only on the covenant, without turning our eyes to anything else. When the knowledge that transcends the world is relayed, answers that transcend time and space follow. That is the gospel. No matter what people or the world may say, what is fulfilled is God's Word. There is no one who can stop it.
5) This amazing answer is obtained in 'Nobody' and seen in 'Nothing.' Those who see this become the faithful ones who transcend the world. Therefore, we should not view suffering so pitifully. It is neither something to be sad about nor something to feel wronged by. The Bible tells us that it is the complete answer and path. The Red Sea was a place God deliberately chose and specifically led His people to.
6) May you receive the gospel of this age, enjoy true understanding, and live the life of the faithful one. God has already prepared everything.
