Sermon Title: Fundamental Healing

Scripture: Genesis 3:15–21

---

Introduction

It is shocking that there are only nine children in the elementary department.
A prayer topic is how to bring young parents in their 30s–40s to bring their children, and if they come, how they can become rooted and stay.

It is said that even in the Korean church, Sunday schools are dying to the point that it is considered a crisis.
However, some churches are reviving. Seeing this, I personally study, pray, and wait for God's timing.

Those who are interested should observe. It is clear that change must come to the church—not just our church, but churches across America.

Koreans will always remain a minority. This is not wrong—the Jews were also like this, and the disciples came from such a background.
They did not become the majority, yet a small number influenced the world. However, spiritually, many are collapsing.

We have talked about multi-ethnic evangelization for 30 years, but we must examine what is actually happening.

Some churches have something different—that is the key point.
We must change. In the past, I resisted the idea of changing to match the world.
We must not change the covenant—but the method must change, not the content.

Recently, after listening to a message, I realized we must conquer and transform culture.
I organized this thought:

- Culture is the method of approach.
- It is how we reach people in the field.
- It is a natural way to invite people.
- It is a method that draws people in.

In other words, it is the path that brings people to come.

In the early days, one church member evangelized by simply cooking noodles and inviting people to eat.
At first, I thought this was childish. I thought we should just preach the gospel directly like Apostle Paul.

But later I realized:

- Am I Apostle Paul?
- Paul had his own methods of evangelism.

Is it wrong to cook noodles and share the gospel? No.

We focused only on the gospel and ignored methods, thinking they were humanistic.
But now I see:

- The gospel is not always presented first.
- It is revealed later, after connection is built.

We missed culture, even though culture is also biblical.

We must change our thinking.
Evangelism happens when someone truly enjoys the gospel and receives training.
Without this, even simple ideas will not come.

We must be flexible and apply methods wisely.
Without this, our thinking becomes fixed and cannot expand.

We must open our eyes to multi-ethnic evangelization.
History shows that those who embraced this were used by God, while those who kept things to themselves declined.

Main Message

1. Fundamental Healing

Our root must be healed.

1. Genesis 3:15 — Healing comes through the offspring of the woman (Christ).
2. The fundamental problems are:
    - Separation from God
    - Sin
    - Satan

3. These must be solved within us.
   → From here comes the answer to all life problems.
4. Through this:
   - We experience freedom
   - We conquer
   - We save others
   - We receive salvation

This is God's promise and blessing.

2. Healing of Enjoyment

Some may struggle with this, but prayer should bring thanksgiving and joy.

1. Genesis 3:21 — Hold onto the covenant of the blood sacrifice.
   Throughout the Old Testament, those who held this covenant always had victory.

→ The blood of Christ is the key.
→ Because He took our place, we now have authority.

2. We need deep prayer.
   Even if not 24-hour prayer, sincere daily prayer brings great answers.
3. When we continue, answers will come.
   → Answers confirm that we are enjoying the covenant.
4. Beyond enjoyment is challenge.
   → When we hold the covenant and challenge ourselves, greater grace comes.

3. Personal Healing Is Essential

Without personal answers, we cannot continue.

God's promise for personal healing is simple:

1. Hold onto Christ as the covenant
2. Continually confess it

When we confess:

- Grace comes
- Peace comes

Even those with spiritual problems can be healed through this alone.

If someone suffers from anxiety or depression,
→ true peace can come instantly through spiritual healing.

I experienced this myself—moments of deep peace that brought great joy and gratitude.

If peace comes, healing happens immediately.

This applies not only spiritually but also physically and practically.
This was the method used throughout the Old Testament.

3. When we receive answers, we become witnesses.
   → Then our lives become works of God.

Through this:

- We transcend circumstances
- We experience true freedom
- We conquer

Everything begins with the covenant of Christ.

Conclusion: God's Timing

1. There is God's timetable.
   → We must continue, trusting that He will fulfill it.
2. The guidance of the Word is important.
   → Worship must not be taken lightly.
3. Prayer is essential.
   Those who truly know prayer have no worries.

When you experience prayer:

- Fear disappears
- Confidence comes
- You live in constant prayer (24)

We can only share what we truly experience.
Authentic testimony comes from real experience.

Final Encouragement

May we all receive deep grace in prayer today.
Do not just listen to the message—pray afterward.

If possible, gather in church for worship.
This is God’s will—that we receive grace together.

God repays according to what we do.
May we receive grace and give glory to Him.

---

Closing Prayer (Translated)

Thank You, God, for Your grace.
You have given us this precious Word—please grant us grace so that our roots may be healed.
