Sermon Title: Go Up to Bethel

Scripture: Genesis 35:1–5

Introduction

In my opinion, for remnants who are not able to properly worship, it is important to have them confess or write out the three offices of Christ. Along with that, they should find and write related Bible verses, create a group chat (like KakaoTalk), and post them there.

For example, they can write Matthew 16:16–19 along with the confession of the three offices of Christ, and also write one verse from that week's pulpit message. This should be the foundation. Whether they listen well or not, the basic message must always be delivered.

The three fundamental problems and the three offices of Christ must always, without exception, be proclaimed. The messenger must serve with the mindset of declaring spiritual warfare against Satan who hinders worship.

As I told Pastor Im before, talk with the young adults and encourage them to spend time with the youth—keep saying it until it happens. Some young adults have jobs and can even use their finances to help. Keep encouraging until it is accomplished, and make it a prayer topic for the middle and high school ministry. This will also become a great blessing for the young adults.

Next, you must hold a parents' meeting with teachers once a month. As Pastor Im saw yesterday, when such meetings are held, the department leaders, assistant leaders, and teachers must attend. God has given authority of the Word to the messenger.

Encourage all leaders and teachers to participate. If there is no topic, ask: "How can we bring revival and concentration?" Then pray. Even if teachers or parents do not yet have biblical answers, if you continue to gather, pray, and have forums, something will surely appear.

As we always say, continuation is extremely important. This is not a meeting that should ever stop. God is the One who works, so if you continue praying according to His will, answers will come. Whether evangelism seems to work or not, if you continue, doors will open.

Sometimes people fail to continue:

1. Because they lack a sense of mission and covenant
2. Because they need companions to go together

I hope Pastor Im will hold this in his heart and put it into action.

May the revival of the youth lead naturally to revival in young adults and then to the adults.

"Go up to Bethel"—even this phrase alone brings grace to the heart (Genesis 35:1–5). We must receive healing first.

Main Message

1. Hold to the covenant and pray

This is extremely important. Reflect on your own prayer life. Through this, hold the covenant and restore worship.

When you pray holding the covenant:

1. The three fundamental problems are solved
2. The three offices of Christ are fulfilled as answers

This is what happens when you hold the covenant and worship. Compare your life before knowing the gospel and now.

If you continue:

- You will see the watchtower, journey, and guideposts
- You will gain the mindset of conquest
- Words like masterpiece, 237 nations, 5000 tribes will enter
- With deep prayer (777), real answers come

The starting point is Christ. Continue, and answers will come.

If you struggle to hold the covenant, pray:
"God, help me hold onto the covenant."
When you truly grasp it, you will know.

2. Why Bethel brings healing

At Bethel, there is healing because of the blood sacrifice of the promise.

1. Fundamental healing
   Not partial, but complete healing—so you can become a witness.
2. Lifelong healing
   Through the blood of Christ, your entire life is healed.

3. Complete and eternal healing
   It continues until the end of life and into eternity.
4. Healing of past, present, and future
   - The past becomes a foundation
   - The present is healed
   - The future gains clear answers

Healing is natural within the gospel and the covenant of the blood sacrifice.

What should we do?
Hold the covenant, pray, and confess it in prayer. This is the most powerful method.

If even one youth opens their eyes to this, everything changes.

This is the fulfillment of Matthew 6:33.

3. God's goal

God tells Jacob: return to Bethel and build an altar.

Even after wrestling at the Jabbok River, Jacob had not fully returned. Though God gave him the name Israel, he still needed to go to Bethel.

This is the final message about Jacob.

1. Build the altar → practice the covenant of the blood
   Jacob knew it, but had never truly practiced it.
2. When he finally obeyed, God concluded his story
   Writing and confessing the covenant opens spiritual eyes.
3. True worship before God
   Not just in heart, but expressed in action.

The most powerful prayer is:

- Confessing the covenant
- Confessing the blood of Christ

Nothing has greater authority against Satan.

Jacob did this for the first time with sincerity—so God завершed his story there.

4. The covenant confession (Matthew 16:16–19)

Those who practice this:

- Build their life on the rock
- Are never shaken
- Overcome the powers of hell
- Receive the keys of the kingdom of heaven

All doors that should open will open according to God's timing.

At one point, doubt may come—but when true faith enters, everything changes.
Then you realize: "All doors will open. No one can block them."

5. The time of the promise is the time of the Word

1. Genesis 35:9–13 – God reaffirms His promise to Abraham and Isaac
   Everyone needs a lifelong covenant.
2. Exodus 3:1–18 (Moses)
   When you receive God's lifelong Word:
   - You are never defeated
   - Spiritual strength arises
   - No circumstance can shake you
3. Acts 9:1–15 (Paul)
   Those who followed Paul became witnesses for their era.

God desires to bless and save—not to curse.

Moses was never shaken despite opposition.
Eventually, Paul had to go to Rome—this was God's covenant.

When a lifelong covenant enters you, everything aligns naturally.

Conclusion

1. A life that follows the Word

Sometimes it seems to work, sometimes not—but continue.

- Follow the Ark of the Covenant (the Word)
- Then you will cross on dry ground
- The Word will become your nature

2. 300% Prayer

Human determination is not enough.
When the covenant and Word enter you, it happens naturally.

---

3. Peace, thanksgiving, and healing

You must receive deep grace in prayer.

May great healing come upon all of us.

Hold onto one key word God gives you, and confess it before Him.
