Word Title: The One who Has Received the Greatest Blessing

Bible Passage: Matthew 28:16-20

Introduction

(1) God has called us within the covenant of world evangelization, preparing new grace for us each day. We are living within the blessing of meetings that He has always prepared for us.
(2) Last week through the pulpit message, "The Word Came to Me," I had a time of prayer for the field with the heart of Jeremiah. It was also a week of receiving great answers as I enjoyed that the word came as Christ and He is with me.
(3) From the very beginning, when God first called us, He called us according to His complete and perfect plan. I thank God for calling me when I was within complete failure and curses, giving me new life, allowing me to use my past as a stepping stone, and leading me according to the covenant of Immanuel and world evangelization even now.

1. The greatest blessing is Immanuel.
   (1) We have received the gospel, our lives have been transformed, and we are following the word. Although each person's time schedule is different, what is certain is the fact that the gospel we have received is the same, and the direction in which we are going is the same. Just as Jesus' disciples were each doing their own work in their respective fields when Jesus called them and made them His disciples, Jesus came into our lives and called us.
   (2) No matter how much time passes, we must never be changed or altered from this. Remember your identity and mine: from the very beginning, God created us according to His own image.
   (3) God created us in His own image, but because of original sin, we became separated from God, fell into curses, and became people who serve Satan. We lost all the blessings that we had received.
   (4) At that moment, God the Son, Jesus Christ, came as the offspring of woman, just as He had promised to come for us in Genesis 3:15, and He resolved all of our sin and curses. The method in which He accomplished this is described in Isaiah 53:5–6: "But he was pierced for our transgressions, he was crushed for our iniquities…"
   (5) When the Lord called me, I was in the worst spiritual state, as though my hands and feet were bound by Satan and even my eyes were covered with a black blindfold. Then the words of Matthew 11:28–29 came into my heart: "Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest… Come to me and learn from me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart… For my yoke is easy and my burden is light." I was drawn to the Lord through these words. After that, I gained assurance from the word of Matthew 4:19, that if I followed the Lord, He would make me a fisher of people. That word is being fulfilled every week.
   (6) Mark 3:13–15 says that He desired us and called us, and that is why we have come to Him. He has given us amazing grace. As time goes by, I am realizing more and more that the reason God called me was so that I would be with Him. This realization fills me with happiness and overflowing joy.

(7) Matthew 5:3 says, “Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.” I believe that the joy of being with God is the greatest joy and the greatest happiness for us.
(8) What is amazing is that when we enjoy the Triune God, the blessing of the throne rightfully follows. There are many ways to enjoy God, but undoubtedly, the first is worship.
(9) When we focus on worship first, we begin to hear and understand God’s will, and it enters into our hearts. You can consider that to be the covenant and the word of answers that God has given you for this week.

2. The direction of our lives is world evangelization.
(1) There is only one reason God is with me. It is because He created me according to His own image, and He loves me and takes responsibility for me to the very end. The depth of His love for me is deeper than I could ever comprehend.
(2) We must pray that God will use us as the best possible instruments for His purpose. This is because simply being passionate for having the assurance and joy of salvation does not necessarily mean that we are receiving the guidance of the Holy Spirit.
(3) We need to be within the evangelism that the Holy Spirit does, inside the encounters that the Holy Spirit has prepared—in other words, we need to be within God’s time schedule. One characteristic of passionate people is that once they reach a certain point, they fixate on it as something God wants and is pleased with, and they may even concentrate on it to the point of staking their lives on it, whether it rains or snows.
(4) I used to live that way as well. But after I came to realize the gospel and understand evangelism, I realized that this was not God’s will. I came to know that there is an evangelism that God Himself carries out within my life. So I began to pray for it and wait for it. As I did so, I am going into the doors of evangelism according to the doors He opened.
(5) Now, I am so thankful that I have become someone who does not get as excited, rush ahead, or try to take matters into my own hands as I did before. God has given me the covenant of world evangelization and allowed me to understand Jesus’ strategy of making disciples of all nations.
(6) Matthew 28:16 says, “Now the eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mountain to which Jesus had directed them. And when they saw him they worshiped him, but some doubted.” I too became a disciple of Jesus, experienced great answers, and confirmed the evidence of His work. But there were also times when I doubted Jesus when I became caught up in my own personal problems. Nevertheless, God did not abandon me but gave me His word.
(7) Jesus came and said to them, “All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me.” Therefore, the One who is with us is the One who has all authority in heaven and on earth. He is the Creator and the Savior. The One who died in my place and was resurrected is with me.
(8) He also commanded us to teach them to observe everything that He had commanded us. What Jesus taught us is that, we must relay the truth that Christ came as the true prophet, true priest, and true king to resolve my fundamental problems while we were living within Genesis 3.
(9) Then, our direction in life is to find and raise up those who have received the vision for evangelism and missions and the desire to carry out world evangelization together among those who have received the gospel and been revived, and then commission them out again.

(10) Now, we must deliver this gospel message to the 237 nations and 5,000 tribes. For the sake of this work, I believe that our church will become the main figure to open the 3 ages as a church that restores the three courtyards, a church that receives the answers of the 3 day weekend age, and a church that opens the age of holy meditation. However, I believe that this will not be accomplished through the efforts of one capable person. Rather, it will be an answer that opens through the blessing of Oneness among those who hold onto this covenant. Therefore, I bless you to become witnesses who hear this word and enjoy the greatest answers within the stream of the covenant.

Conclusion

(1) Now, may each and every member of our ICSC congregation enjoy the mystery of Christ who is with us as Immanuel. In our fields, may we remember the word we have received through worship and enjoy the blessing of 24-hour prayer and holy meditation. May we confirm every day, every hour, and in everything that God is with us, and spend our time in true happiness.

(2) Then, according to what He has prepared, God will allow us to meet those who are ready to receive new life. He will lead us to regions, nations, and ages where there are people who are ready to receive new life, and He will use us for world evangelization according to His desire. Along the path of an evangelist, God's angels will surely be prepared to help us, and many things will take place through which all the glory will be given to God.

(3) As it is written, "And this gospel of the kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come." Until the day this gospel is relayed throughout the entire world, I bless you in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ to be evangelists who always give glory to God.
